Transilwrap Company Announces New President and CEO

FRANKLIN PARK, Ill. – Transilwrap Company, Inc. announces Andy J. Brewer has joined Transilwrap as president and CEO. Mr. Brewer comes to Transilwrap with an extensive background in sales, marketing, business development and executive management in the plastics and packaging industries. Mr. Brewer was previously president and CEO of Cosmetic Essence, Inc. and president of Pregis Protective Packaging North America. He holds a BBA from The University of Georgia and an MBA from Emory University.

“Andy will bring Transilwrap to a new level in business development and innovation, as well as introduce a focus on lean manufacturing,” says former President and CEO Mark Stevens, who will assume the role of chairman of Transilwrap Company, working with its equity partner on new growth opportunities for the company.

“I am thrilled to be joining Transilwrap, which has tremendous potential going forward,” said Mr. Brewer. “We look to leverage the company’s strengths to develop new products and markets for the future, while continuing excellent customer service and quality for the markets we currently serve.”

Transilwrap Company, Inc. is a manufacturer, coater and converter of plastics in the thermal laminating, printing, industrial, specialty packaging and graphic arts markets. Headquartered in Franklin Park, Ill., USA, Transilwrap has multiple distribution locations throughout the United States and Canada with three key business units: thermal laminating films, printable plastics, and industrial packaging and specialty films groups.
